Model answer 1:

Well, it's really hard for me to choose one family member that I admire because, you know, I love and admire them all equally. But if I had to choose one, it would have to be my dad.

You know, my dad is a very hard-working person. He gets up pretty early, at about 5 and 5:30 every morning. He often has quick breakfast and then goes to the farm. He normally works 10 or 12 hours a day on the farm. You know, farming for a living is hard work, especially during summer time, when the temperature can go up to nearly 40 degrees which is extremely hot. Working outdoors in this condition is a nightmare. Although my dad has to work super hard to support the family, I've never heard him complain about hard work or things like that. That's the first reason why I really admire him.

Vâng, thật khó để em chọn một thành viên trong gia đình mà em ngưỡng mộ bởi vì, thầy biết đấy, em yêu và ngưỡng mộ tất cả họ đều như nhau. Nhưng nếu em phải chọn một người, đó sẽ phải là bố em.

Thầy biết không, bố em là một người rất chăm chỉ. Bố thức dậy khá sớm, vào khoảng 5 và 5:30 mỗi sáng. Bố thường ăn sáng nhanh và sau đó đi đến trang trại. Bố thường làm việc 10 hoặc 12 giờ một ngày trong trang trại. Thầy biết đấy, kiếm sống bằng làm nông là công việc khó khăn, đặc biệt là trong thời gian mùa hè, khi nhiệt độ có thể lên đến gần 40 độ cực kỳ nóng. Làm việc ngoài trời trong tình trạng như vậy là một cơn ác mộng. Mặc dù bố em phải làm việc chăm chỉ để hỗ trợ gia đình, em chưa bao giờ nghe bố phàn nàn về công việc khó khăn hay những việc như thế. Đó là lý do đầu tiên khiến em thực sự ngưỡng mộ bố.

And the second thing that I want to talk about is that my dad is a very dedicated husband and father. He always puts his family first. I feel like he's willing to do everything to make his wife and children smile. Although he has to work super hard during the day, he always makes time for me and my brothers and sisters.

I've learned a great deal from my dad. You know, being a farmer's daughter, I understand the value of hard work. My dad is always a good role model for me. Actually, there are so many things that I could talk about, but I know that I don't have enough time for it.

So if I had to choose one family member that I admire the most, I would talk about my dad.

Và điều thứ hai mà em muốn nói đến là bố em là một người chồng và người cha rất tận tụy. Bố luôn đặt gia đình mình lên trước. Em cảm thấy như bố sẵn sàng làm mọi thứ để làm cho vợ và con mình mỉm cười. Mặc dù bố phải làm việc cực nhọc suốt ngày, bố luôn dành thời gian cho em và các anh chị em của em.

Em đã học được rất nhiều từ bố. Thầy biết đấy, là con gái của một nông dân, em hiểu giá trị của việc làm việc chăm chỉ. Bố luôn là hình mẫu tốt cho em. Trên thực tế, có rất nhiều điều mà em có thể nói, nhưng em biết rằng em không có đủ thời gian cho nó.

Vì vậy, nếu em phải chọn 1 thành viên trong gia đình mà em ngưỡng mộ nhất, em sẽ nói về bố.

Model answer 2:

I am going to talk about my mom – a person I admire the most in my family. Her name is Ngọc Diệp, which can be literally translated into English as 'Golden Leave'. Although she was already in her early sixties, she looked pretty much younger with a fine figure and, surprisingly, not a lot of wrinkles and grey hair to be found. She really knows how to dress smartly, and that was why my dad fell for her the very moment he laid his eyes on her when they were younger.

One of the things that most impressed me about her was the fact that she still remained perfectly exuberant and charismatic, which was quite rare for elderly people at her age. Modern families

In what ways have families changed in the last hundred years? / How has family

Should we rely heavily on families or is it better to try to be independent?

What can the younger generation learn from the older generation?

HOW HAS X CHANGED IN THE PAST AND NOW

Step 1: Khẳng định X đã thay đổi rất nhiều.

- X has changed a lot for recent years.

Step 2: Đưa ra thông tin X trong quá khứ.

- In the past, X + V₂ / V-ed / used to V
- Number + years ago, X + V₂ / V-ed / used to V

→ Sử dụng thì quá khứ đơn để diễn tả các ý trong quá khứ.

Step 3: Đưa ra thông tin X ở hiện tại.

- However/Yet, now X + was + adj (so sánh hơn kém)
- However/Yet, now X + đưa ra sự thay đổi

→ Sử dụng thì hiện tại đơn để diễn tả các ý ở hiện tại.

1. In what ways have families changed in the last hundred years?

Suggested ideas:

- Topic sentence: families → have undergone many changes (due to economic factors, societal shifts, technological advances, ...): gia đình → đã trải qua nhiều thay đổi (do yếu tố kinh tế, sự thay đổi xã hội, tiến bộ công nghệ, ...)

- Family size:

- in the past: extended families with many generations living together
- now: nuclear families with only parents and their children → avoid unnecessary conflicts and arguments because of generation gap

- Family role (past vs. present):

- in the past: men → the main breadwinner of the family, women → stay at home + look after their children: quá khứ: đàn ông → trụ cột chính của gia đình, phụ nữ → ở nhà + chăm sóc con cái
- now: both husbands and wives go to work + share the same responsibility for bringing their children up as well as doing household chores

- Family role (men vs. women):

- women → no longer solely the home-maker: phụ nữ → không còn chỉ là người ở nhà nội trợ, chăm sóc con cái; focus more on their careers before having children: tập trung hơn vào sự nghiệp trước khi có con
- the number of stay-at-home dads → increase (take on housekeeping and parenting responsibilities): số lượng các ông bố ở nhà → tăng (lo việc nhà cửa và nuôi dạy con cái)

- Family happiness:

- in the past: couples often had to stay together for the sake of their children/ religious reasons: → các cặp vợ chồng thường phải ở cùng nhau vì lợi ích của con cái / lý do tôn giáo
- now: increases in divorce rates (divorce is now a very easy process) → tăng trong tỷ lệ ly hôn (ly hôn bây giờ là một quá trình rất dễ dàng)

Example:

Step 1: Topic sentence	Well, family connection has changed a lot in recent years.
Step 2: Families in the past	In the past, families used to live under one roof in order to support and take care of each other. Besides, they had more frequent contact with relatives.
Step 3: Families at present	However, now the family relationship may not be as close as before. Family members are easily separated. Particularly, children tend to study, work and live far away from their parents, and they may even move to another city or country to live.

2. Should we rely heavily on families or is it better to try to be independent?Suggested answers:

→ I must say that we should make use of everything we've got, and our families are the greatest resources. To be clear, I'm not only stating that in terms of finance, but also about emotional support. Of course, being independent is crucial, too. Still, what's the point of being a family when we keep silent while needing help?

→ I believe that being independent does not contradict our reliance on our family. Every single person should be economically and personally independent at a certain age and should be close to his/ her family at the same time. If being independent means living separately and not having a strong relationship with the family, I do not want such independence and freedom. We all possess unique personality and a desire to be independent, but that should not harm our family relationship.

3. What can the younger generation learn from the older generation?Suggested ideas:

- advice on love, work and friendship: lời khuyên về tình yêu, công việc và tình bạn
- life from the past: cuộc sống trong quá khứ
- pass on family values and traditions: truyền lại các giá trị và truyền thống gia đình
- stories about the family history + teach their grandchildren valuable life lessons + create awareness of family roots + enhance a sense of identity and belonging: chuyện về lịch sử gia đình + dạy cho cháu họ những bài học cuộc sống quý giá + tạo nhận thức về cội nguồn gia đình + nâng cao ý thức về bản sắc và sự thuộc về nguồn cội
- healthy values and social norms (respect, kindness, patience): các giá trị lành mạnh và các chuẩn mực xã hội (tôn trọng, tử tế, kiên nhẫn)

→ Youngsters can ask older people for advice on love, work and friendship. Although our world is changing very fast, some things remain the same. And that's where old people can help with their wealth of experience. For example, I often consult my mum on my study, because she is an English teacher. Besides, when you talk with an old person, you can also learn about life in the past, which is also very interesting.

Friendship

1. What do you expect from a good friend?

loyal

- stay even when everyone else has left: ở lại ngay cả khi những người khác đã rời bỏ bạn
- never let you feel that you're alone: không bao giờ để bạn cảm thấy rằng bạn cô đơn
- never talk behind your back: không bao giờ nói xấu sau lưng bạn
- don't believe in gossip or engage in gossip about those close to them: không tin vào tin đồn hoặc tham gia vào tin đồn về những người thân thiết của họ
- show up for friends when they promise they will: họ sẽ có mặt để gặp/giúp bạn khi họ hứa họ sẽ tới
- be there for you in any situation: bên bạn trong bất kỳ hoàn cảnh nào

honest

- speak openly from the heart: những gì họ nói ra xuất phát từ chính trái tim họ
- honesty → the key foundation in trust: sự thành thật – nền móng của sự tin tưởng
- tell friend → if he or she does not look good in an out fit: nói với bạn của họ rằng anh ấy hay cô ấy không hợp với bộ đồ đó đâu
- keep their promises: giữ lời hứa

supportive

- they believe in your potential to reach your dreams: họ tin tưởng vào tiềm năng của bạn là bạn sẽ đạt được ước mơ của mình
- understand who you are and what you need: thực sự hiểu bạn và biết bạn cần gì
- be with you through thick and thin: bên bạn trong bất kỳ hoàn cảnh nào
- get your back no matter what situation you're about to walk into: hỗ trợ bạn trong bất kỳ hoàn cảnh nào share common interests / have a lot in common

- spend a lot of time with
- do the same activities, talk about the same topics

→ For me, a good friend has to be reliable. I can't stand people who talk behind my back or reveal my trusted secrets to others. If I find this out then a friend of mine no more. A good friend should be someone you can have great fun with, but also be there for serious situations that occur in life.

→ Well, that's a tough question! Not that I have not thought about it, but I have never drawn a solid conclusion about it! Umm, my expectation from a good friend is that he would be a good companion, good listener, would criticise me whenever needed, would be supportive and positive. He must be honest and would have a sense of humour. Finally, I expect him to be more like a family member than an outsider.

→ There are many factors to have a lasting/life-long/healthy friendship. Firstly, honesty is vital for a good friendship. In any friendship, we need to be able to trust our friends so that we can freely share our problems with them. Secondly, a good friend needs to be a good listener who is always willing to listen to his or her friend's problems. Good friends don't necessarily give their friend a good piece of advice, just be by their side and together go through ups and downs.

2. Are friends as important to you as family?

→ To me, my family is more important. However, this does not make my friends less important to me. Naturally, family comes first for almost everybody and then the friendship. I am no exception.

→ Both are fairly important, but my family takes place in my life that is dear to my heart. Friends may come and go, but I know that my family will always be there for me, no matter what happens in my life and no matter what decisions I take. Nevertheless, my friends are the closest people with whom I can share and discuss things that sometimes are not appropriate to bring up in the family circle.

3. Do you think friendships change as we get older? How?

→ Well, I definitely find that I have less in common with some friends than I used to. I sometimes wonder what we used to find to talk about. And so you often grow apart from old school friends or old colleagues. The people I feel I have most in common with are friends I met at university. I'm not sure why but we somehow always have lots to talk about.

→ Yes, I believe so. In early ages, we tend to make many friends and only a few of them remain for a long. At this stage in life, the friendship is not profound except in some cases. On the contrary, when we get older we prefer to have few friends but most of them remain as loyal and close friends. In young ages, our expectations from friends are to enjoy their companionship and doing all the crazy things with them. However, in older ages, we expect far more from our friends and they become more like family members than being simply friends.
