Model answer 2:

We are surrounded by abundant electronic equipments and gadgets. No one can deny the significance of these equipments in our life. One such equipment which I find handy is a vacuum cleaner.

Before buying the vacuum cleaner, we used to sweep and clean our home with broomsticks (chổi). It is obvious that as we grow older plenty of health challenges knock at our door. We never thought of buying it until we have found that my mother has a serious problem of arthritis (chứng viêm khớp). We bought it to give my mom some comfort in cleaning the home. My mother is suffering from arthritis and it is painful for her to get to each and every corner of the house and clean it. The day we bought vacuum cleaner, everything has changed.

There are numerous benefits which can be enlisted. In the first place, it is so easy and convenient to work with it. Sometime we thought we have wasted so much time with broomsticks. The use of it is very easy. My mom can do the cleaning very comfortably and easily. Even when no one is at home I also try my hands on it. Secondly, it is great for the people who are allergic to dust because at the time of using, it protects dust from spreading over.

I found this instrument so handy that I frequently started telling people to buy one for them. Really it is a boon (lợi ích) for us. Million thanks to the inventor of this wonderful creation.

Model answer 3:

Presently, it is almost impossible to do without a laptop for a university student like me. So, recently I have bought a Dell Inspiron 17 7000 Series Laptop for my ordinary use of the money my dad gave me and the savings from my part-time job at a convenience store.

A few months ago I asked my dad to buy me a desktop computer because my existing computer could not provide me with the required level of performances. Surprisingly, I found that the price of the Dell laptop I just bought was within my budget and thus I bought this laptop from Dell and it was the latest model. Though it comes with a warranty for three years, I am careful in its use.

I have been using the laptop for around one and a half months. This is a highly useful electronic device for me. It helps me in great ways. The outlook and design of the laptop are extremely beautiful and the operating system has been improved. This is a great piece for gaming as well. The excellent sound quality truly impresses me when I listen to music on this machine.

This laptop I recently bought is highly useful for me. Most of the times, I watch movies on it. The screen resolution is the top standard and comes with perfect sound quality. Moreover, I no longer have to worry about the backup time as it has a good charging backup (up to around 7 hours). So, the tensions to save the documents frequently are gone. The lightweight of this piece is also helpful for me. I can carry it easily on my shoulder if I have any presentations in the class.

Considering all such aspects, this is a very helpful electronic equipment for me.

Technological developments

1. What effects does new technology have on employment?

lose jobs

manufacturing

agricultural

job opportunities

IT programmers

Topic sentence Well, I would say that most old people are afraid of technology for many reasons.

1st effect About a negative impact, technology has to be responsible for people losing their jobs. By this, I mean machines have replaced people in areas like manufacturing and agriculture, and whenever a new technology is introduced, there are redundancies.

2nd effect Meanwhile, technology has also had a positive influence on job opportunities. In particular, jobs might be created thanks to a new technology. For example, there would be no computer programmers if the computer hadn't been invented.

2. Do you think older people are scared of new technology?

→ Well, I think that most old people are afraid of modern technology for many reasons.

The first possible reason would be that the elderly have a fear of making mistakes and the consequences of these mistakes. For example, when using a laptop, they are scared of viruses, deleting other people's documents on the computer, or breaking the device.

Another feasible reason would be previous bad experiences with technology. The complexity of the devices also makes old people difficult to use. Many features available on devices mean that they cannot understand or remember the precise operation of the device.

3. Do you think young children should have mobile phones?

Should

- To keep in touch.
- To talk to friends.
- To stay safe.
- To develop essential skills.
- To keep them occupied.
- To help create memories.
- To download educational apps.
- To improve their organization.
- To help them get home (Google Map).
- To inspire trust between you.
- To encourage responsibility.

→ Well, believe it or not, but it could be beneficial for young children to own a cell phone. To help explain this, take a look at these reasons why kids should have cell phones.

Firstly, having a mobile phone help children keep in touch with their parents. What happens if parents are running late picking their child up from school? They'll be waiting around for ages getting worried. With a cell phone, you can call them to explain the situation.

Secondly, older children may need a cell phone to talk to their friends. Otherwise, your child will be wandering around the house because they have nobody to talk to! With a phone, they can call or text whenever they like.

Shouldn't

- They change the parent-child relationship
- It limits their creative minds
- It causes them to get less sleep
- It impedes their ability to learn
- It causes an addiction
- It has a negative impact on your child's mental health
- It indirectly causes obesity
- It causes behavioral problems
- It causes children to violence
- It causes eye damage

→ Well, believe it or not, but it could be harmful for young children to own a cell phone. To help explain this, take a look at these reasons why kids shouldn't have cell phones.

Firstly, mobile phones change the parent-child relationship. Even while smartphones can be convenient, they alter the bonding that is supposed to exist between a parent and child. The connectivity attached with smartphone use cannot be the same as the genuine connection which the parent and child are meant to have.

Secondly, with easy access through a smartphone to a majority of their play, kids now have a platform to be bombarded with various exciting games. These games limit their creativity and imaginations and slow their development.
